Beautiful SA lets share How lucky we are to live here.

Share a beautiful picture of the community you live in. Each month we will profile a special area of interest to our groups. I thought we would start of with the picture above. It was found in the Road Watch archive taken about 7 years ago. You can't help to notice how clean the area was. This picture was taken in Renmark a while ago. Email Louise — roadwatch@kesab.asn.au a picture you would like to share.

City of Playford have supported the work of this group by providing a free drop off to the local waste transfer station.

Cultana Jenkins Shackowners sign is up.

About Cultana Jenkins Shackowners Road Watch Group.

Gulf View Drive is 18 kms of coastal road that starts at Fitzgerald Bay (north of Point Lowly) and finishes near Douglas Point North. It gives access to beach shacks and camping grounds that make up the Cultana Jenkins coastal zone on the western shores of Upper Spencer Gulf.

Most of this road is unsealed with four sealed sections near the shacks.

Cultana Jenkins Shackowners Assoc. take environmental issues very seriously and have won awards for their efforts in protecting the remnant coastal vegetation and Stranded Shingle Ridges. The Fitzgerald Bay Stranded Shingle Ridge gaining South Australian Heritage listing in 2016. These unique ridges are the only ones of their kind in Australia.

The Shackowners Association has been involved with the Clean Up Australia campaign for the past eight years and cleaning the verges of Gulf View Drive forms part of that clean up. In the early years there was a certain amount of rubbish collected but now due to routine checks the situation has greatly improved. It was inevitable that the Association joined the KESAB Roadwatch program which has achieved great success throughout the state.

Retiring – Rotary Club of Blackwood

Rotary Club of Blackwood after many years of service have retired from the Road Watch program. I am sure that every one will join me in thanking them for all of their efforts.

We are now looking to find another group of people who might like to adopt their section of road. The road is Main Road, Blackwood from Russell Street to Edgumbe Parade, Blackwood.
